What is a community health champion?

We're recruiting volunteers in your area to be the trusted voice of key health and wellbeing messages. If you have a few hours to spare, we are interested in hearing from you.

Why should I become a champion?

- Help those people in your community to understand health messages
- Give something back to the area you live in
- Develop new friendships with people with shared interests
- Build a strong communication connection
- Gain an accredited qualification for your CV.

What support will I get?

- A volunteer starter pack
- Support from your dedicated coordinator
- Updates about important health messages to pass on to your community
- An opportunity to feedback any concerns directly to the council who will respond.
